8 UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
WESTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON
9 AT SEATTLE

10 ALLAH,

11 Plaintiff,

12 v.

13 PALMER ROBINSON, et al.,

14 Defendant.

CASE NO. C11-2097 RAJ-BAT

ORDER ON MOTION TO

16 This matter comes before the Court under Local General Rule 8(c).
17 Plaintiff has filed an “Affidavit of Prejudice Against RAJ, BAT, et al.” (Dkt. No. 5), and 18 Magistrate Judge Tsuchida has declined to recuse himself voluntarily (Dkt. No. 10).
19 Plaintiff’s motion is therefore ripe for review by this Court.

21 Section 455 of title 28 of the United States Code governs the 22 disqualification of a district judge. It states in relevant part: “Any justice, judge, or 23 magistrate judge of the United States shall disqualify himself in any proceeding in which
24

1 his impartiality might reasonably be questioned.” Additionally, 28 U.S.C. § 144,
2 pertaining to judicial bias or prejudice, provides:

3       Whenever a party to any proceeding in a district court makes and files a
4       timely and sufficient affidavit that the judge before whom the matter is
5       pending has a personal bias or prejudice either against him or in favor of
6       any adverse party, such judge shall proceed no further therein, but another
7       judge shall be assigned to hear such proceeding. The affidavit shall state the 8       facts and the reasons for the belief that bias or prejudice exists.

9       A judge must recuse himself if a reasonable person would believe that he is unable to be 10      impartial. Yagman v. Republic Insurance, 987 F.2d 622, 626 (9th Cir. 1993). This is an 11      objective inquiry regarding whether there is an appearance of bias, not whether there is 12      bias in fact. Preston v. United States, 923 F.2d 731, 734 (9th Cir. 1992); United States v.
13      Conforte, 624 F.2d 869, 881 (9th Cir. 1980); See also In Liteky v. United States, 510 U.S.
14      540 (1994) (explaining the narrow bases for recusal).

15       A litigant may not, however, use the recusal process to remove a judge
16      based on adverse rulings in the pending case: the alleged bias must result from an
17      extrajudicial source. United States v. Studley, 783 F.2d 934, 939 (9th Cir. 1986).<sup>1</sup>
18      Plaintiff argues that Magistrate Judge Tsuchida’s recommendation concerning the 19      disposition of his lawsuit gave the Defendants “immunity from liability” and is evidence
20      of a conspiracy between Judge Tsuchida and the named defendants. Dkt. No. 5, p. 2.
21      Plaintiff does not identify any extrajudicial source of the alleged prejudice: the only 22      evidence of bias presented is the judge’s recommendation regarding the disposition of 23      Plaintiff’s claims. In such circumstances, the risk that the litigant is using the recusal

<sup>1</sup> Objections to a judge’s decisions are properly raised through an appeal, not a motion to
recuse.

1 motions for strategic purposes is considerable. See Ex Parte American Steel Barrel Co.
2 and Seaman, 230 U.S. 35, 44 (1913). Because a judge's conduct in the context of judicial
3 proceedings does not constitute the requisite bias under 28 U.S.C. § 144 or § 455 if it is
4 prompted solely by information that the judge received in the context of the performance
5 of his duties as the presiding judicial officer, plaintiffs have not met their burden of 6 showing an appearance of bias.

7           Having reviewed Plaintiff's motion and the remainder of the record, the 8 Court finds that Magistrate Judge Tsuchida's impartiality cannot reasonably be 9 questioned. There being no evidence of bias or prejudice, Plaintiff's request to remove 10 Magistrate Judge Tsuchida from this matter is DENIED.

12           The clerk is ordered to provide copies of this order to all counsel.

13           Dated this 10th day of January, 2012.
